Omiya Games announces today it will complete the Level Upstate Program at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on August 2nd, 2019. The Level Upstate Final Pitch Showcase will provide insight and opportunities from a collective of local independent game studios for business investors and entrepreneurs alike.

The Upstate New York indie game studio operated by a single developer, Omiya Games, will announce their completion of a seven-week accelerator program on August 2nd, 2019. All teams from the Level Upstate accelerator will present their project and pitch at the Troy Innovation Garage for business investors, professionals, and entrepreneurs on August 1st, 2019. The networking opportunity provides the audience an insight on the growing indie game movement in the Troy, NY region, as well as make business connections with the budding studios. During this showcase, Omiya Games will reveal their latest project: a fast-paced, competitive arcade game titled, Air Flip Drive.

For the competitive speed demon in you, Air Flip Drive provides a fast-paced, score-based arcade game for everyone, 10 and up. Imagine a world where speed is the name of the game, and gravity is just a suggestion. In this reckless universe, players compete by driving as far as possible on a high-velocity, anti-gravity vehicle. But there's a catch: the vehicle has limited fuel, and it's always draining! Players must steal fuel from other rivals by attacking them. Race through an ever-changing, infinitely long track; dodge obstacles, soar through the skies, collect power-ups and destroy other vehicles. How far can YOU go before running out of fuel?

“I want the player to experience the thrill of going fast, and discover something new every time they play.”

—Taro Omiya, Solo Developer
